MESSAGE

CLOSELY STUDIED AND SATISFACTORY TO DEMOCRATS.

Republicans Can't Split the Democratic Party.

The Silver Question Will Be Disposed of to the Satisfaction of All Democrats.

Thirty-five Majority in Favor of Repealing

The Purchasing Clause of The Sherman Bill.

THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, D. C. August 14, 1893.

President Cleveland's message to Congress has been as closely studied as any similar document ever was by members of Congress and it is evident that it is going to be a powerful factor in the financial legislation of the session. It apparently opposes the ideas of many Democrats in both House and Senate, just as his celebrated tariff message of 1887 did, but honest and conscientious belief is conspicuous in every sentence of it. And the opposition to what are known as silver Democrats is more apparent than real, for they all agree with the President's recommendation for the repeal of the silver purchasing clause of the Sherman law, only differing as to what shall be substituted. The message recommends the repeal and leaves the question of a substitute to the wisdom of Congress, and nine-tenths of the Democrats are certain that the recommendation as to repeal will be followed, and that other financial legislation, which will be equally satisfactory to the silver Democrats and to President Cleveland, will be agreed upon by the Democrats in both House and Senate and that the persistent efforts of the Republicans to pass the Democratic party on the silver question will fail.

Acting on the maxim quoted in the President's message—"He gives twice who gives quickly"—the Democrats in the House, both silver and anti-silver men, are trying to reach an agreement to take up and decide the silver question without waiting for the appointment of committees and the adoption of rules. It will be easy to take the matter up without an agreement, only a majority vote being required, but if an agreement can be reached upon just what is to be voted upon and how much time is to be given to discussion much time will be saved that would necessarily be wasted if no agreement is made, to say nothing of the possibility of endless filibustering.

The silver men have in caucus decided to vote for the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman law, if the bill for its repeal provides for the free coinage of silver on such a ratio as will provide and maintain the parity between gold and silver. The fact that no particular ratio is mentioned is significant. It means that the caucuses of silver Democrats did not believe it possible to succeed in maintaining the present ratio of 16 to 1 and that they are willing to increase the ratio.

It is now claimed that a careful poll of the House, made this week, shows a majority of 35 in favor of the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman law. The Senate is more doubtful, and it is much more difficult to ascertain how Senators whose positions are not clearly defined will vote, but strong efforts are now being made to bring the Democratic Senators together, and the indications point to success. A caucus of Democratic Senators this week appointed a committee of five—Gorman, Ransom, Gray, Voorhees, and Blackburn—to consider and report on a plan with that end in view. The Republicans, unfortunately, of course, added largely to the probability of united Democratic action in the Senate by their attempts to make political capital, which were promptly and properly rebuked by Senator Gorman, out of the present financial situation.

The Senate Committee on Finance of which Senator Voorhees is chairman, held its first meeting yesterday. The committee did not lack for business, either, as more than a score of financial bills which have been introduced in the Senate have been referred to that committee. A majority of this committee are bimetallists, but some of the most prominent of them, including the chairman, have declared their belief in the viciousness of the Sherman law and their willingness to vote for its unconditional repeal. The Senate is naturally deliberative in all its actions, so it will not be surprising if the House takes up the silver question before this committee reports a bill to the Senate. The resolution of Senator Lodge, of Force Bill fame, directing the committee to report a bill for the repeal of the Sherman law and providing that a vote should be taken thereupon on the 22, of this month was only a bit of Republican buncombe, and the adoption of the resolution would have surprised no one more than its author.

The bitterest pill in the President's message, for the Republicans swallow, was the plain statement that he expected Congress to obey the will of the people and proceed to reform the iniquitous tariff as soon as the finances have been looked after. Because the troubles brought upon the country by Republican Financial Legislation have so conspicuously forced themselves to believe that the McKinley Law was to be undisturbed by this Congress. They know better now, and the knowledge doesn't please them.

A Good Place to Live.

There is not a single complaint of complaint of hard times about Beattyville. The smiling of the gold men, the howling of the silver men, the ranting of the flat men, the Kansas salt certificate scheme, the Kentucky whisky deposit demand, alike are not thought of in the solitude of the forest or the silence of the mine. The fisher and coal are turned steadily into bread by the workmen, into cash by the capitalists, in spite of the smile, the rant, the scheme and the dream—Beattyville Enterprise.

The residence of J. C. Naff, near Renick, was destroyed by fire Wednesday. The fire caught from a defective flue, and had gained considerable headway when discovered. Most of the household goods were saved. Loss about $4,000; insurance, $2,000. Capt. Madison and his crew, who were with a construction train near by came to the rescue and did valiant service.—Winchester Sun.

The Democratic Primary in Clark county on last Monday resulted in the nomination of Judge W. M. Beckner for Representative, Hon. Rodney Hargart for County Judge, and C. E. Lydane for Superintendent of Schools. All splendid selections. The Democracy of Clark is to be congratulated out he men it is presenting for election.

Tuesday morning last the Warden of the penitentiary, discovered a plot to blow up the walls of the prison. The Reeves brothers and Millard, three desperate convicts, were at the bottom of the scheme. They had in their possession cartridges and a quantity of nitroglycerine.

A certain farmer, claiming that he was unable to spend one dollar for a year's subscription to his country paper sent the sum to a down east yankee for a receipt to keep his horse from snobbering—he got it, and here it is: "Teach your horse to spit."

Nancy Adams, an old colored woman, became "panic-stricken" last Saturday and drew her balance—$67—from a local bank. The bank didn't suspend, but Nancy lost her money. It was stolen from her trunk Saturday night.—Winchester Sun.

Mr. Oscar Dougherty and Miss Amanda Clark, both of Clark Co., near Ford, were married in County Clerk's office on Saturday morning. Ceremony by Elder B. W. Trimble.

BRACKEN ASSOCIATION.

Ninety-sixth Annual Session Met With the Mt. Sterling Baptist Church.

Large Delegation and Much Business Done.

On last Wednesday morning the Bracken Association of Baptists met with the Mt. Sterling Baptist church, and was called to order by Moderator R. B. Yancey, of Mayfield.

After reading church letters and receiving report on enrollment, the following officers were elected for the year: R. B. Yancey, of Mayfield, Moderator; J. W. Hadden, of Mt. Sterling, Clerk; and W. H. Fritts, of Carlisle, Treasurer.

The letters from the various churches indicated much earnest work and satisfactory results. From the beginning to the close of the Association every item of business was transacted in a Christian spirit.

State Missions, Home Missions, Foreign Missions, Bracken Missions, Sunday-schools and Colporters, Schools, Colleges, Ministerial Aid Society, Religious Periodicals, etc., all had the very best and most encouraging reports.

The introductory sermon was preached by Rev. J. P. Kincaid, Missionary secretary by Rev. H. H. Hibbs. Rev. R. G. Patrick preached Thursday evening, and Rev. M. P. Adams preached Friday evening. Miss Mary Hollingsworth, of the Orphans Home, was present and received a handsome contribution in cash and pledges. Rev. Mahan, of the London Baptist church, and Thraher, of the Beattyville Baptist Church, received aid for building a B. Baptist church at each place. R. B. Yancey, of Mayfield, was appointed delegate to the Southern Baptist Convention; Rev. W. Jayne alternate.

Board meetings will be held at Carlisle. The next meeting of this Association will be held with the Mayfield church. Just before the Association adjourned a telegram was received, announcing the death of J. A. Chappel, of the Carlisle church, who had for many years been a member of this Association. After speeches in which tender words of love and esteem were expressed prayer was offered by his life-long friend, Rev. Cleon Keyes, and the following resolution adopted:

RESOLVED, In the death of our Brother, deacon J. A. Chappel, the church in which he was so long a faithful and devoted member, has lost one of its brightest ornaments. By his exemplary, expansive benevolence and earnest work for the Master he illustrated the power of the religion of Christ to sanctify and save. That we hereby tender our sincere sympathy to his bereaved family, and earnestly pray that the grace of God may both comfort and sustain them.

The Governor of South Carolina, has procured a bottle of "rice beer," which is having a large sale in Columbia and Charleston, and has ordered the State chemist to analyze it. He says that if it shall be found to contain more than 24 per cent of alcohol he will order the arrest and prosecution of every ex-alcopurifier selling.

Jake Corbitt has been caught at last, and by a widow at that. Jake surprised his friends by marrying Mrs. Emma Smith, of Cairo, Ill., on Monday last. Mr. Corbitt has gone to join his father, who was lately appointed Receiver of Public Money for Oklahoma.

An exchange says: Let the sheep decide themselves what they want: keep salt, salt and copers, salt and sulphur, salt and rosin, each in separate boxes, and note the preference. They know what they want.

Joseph Martin and Miss Mattie Wilmough were married at the bride's home on the Paris pike Wednesday afternoon. Elder B. W. Trimble officiated.

State Treasurer Hise has revoked his order to the effect that all obligations on the State must be paid in cash. He is now receiving bank exchanges drawn on business centers.

"Oh, Speed the Day When all of God's People are One."

The spectacle of Roman Catholics, Baptists and Methodists worshipping in the same church at different hours in Long Island City last Sunday, was an impressive reminder that beneath all forms of Christian sect and creed are the fundamental principles of the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. Whatever the pessimists say, the world is growing better and whiter, as it grows older. The lesson of tolerance and charity in matters of belief is impressing itself on the minds and hearts of men. Bigotry has not vanished, but it is dying out. Such a proceeding as that in Long Island City last Sunday would have excited widespread condemnation from both Catholics and Protestants half a century ago. To-day it commands almost universal approbation.

There is a suggestion in this event which might be profitably carried out in hundreds of American towns and villages. The effort to build and keep in operation several more or less expensive church edifices in communities whose wealth is unequal to the burden as is common as it is painful. If the various denominations in such places would unite in sustaining one commodious central edifice to be used by each at different hours of the day for worship we should see fewer starved and debt-laden churches. We should also see a gradual but sure approach to that practical Christian unity which has been so long the dream of the noblest branch of the Christian Church.—New York Press.

COL. JOHN P. SALVER

Charges that Senator Lindsay is Responsible for His Defeat.

Col. Salver has been defeated, we are sorry to announce, in his race for Chief Clerk of the Senate. He at first charged that both the Kentucky Senators had thrown him over, but in a special dated August 12, he is quoted as saying:—"I was misinformed as to Senator Blackburn's position toward my candidacy for Chief Clerk of the Senate." "The Senator sent for me last night, and said I was Lindsay who threw me overboard." Senator Blackburn said he was willing to divide the pro rata of patronage allowed him in favor and do everything in his power for me. The Senator was sincere, and I am satisfied he was willing to recognize the unwashed Democracy of Eastern Kentucky."

We are sincerely sorry Col. Salver did not succeed in attaining the object of his desire. He is a splendid working Democrat, who is entitled to the cordial support of the party.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 1,890 hhds, with receipts for the same period of 1973 hhds. Sales on our market since January 1, amount to 55,331 hhds. Sales of the crop of 1892 on our market amount to 88,331 hhds.

The market this week has been without any special features to note. The only change being a little lower range of values for the very common grades of burley such as are selling under $6 per hundred.

The money conditions continue very much strained throughout the whole country, and it is by no means likely that any permanent improvement will be realized in prices of tobacco until financial conditions improve.

The following quotations fairly represent our market for burley tobacco. (1892 crop.)

Trash. (Dark damaged tobacco $3.50 to $4.25
Common color trash, $4.50 to $5.50
Medium to good color trash, $6 to $8.
Common lugs, not color, $4.50 to $6.
Common color lugs, $6 to $7.50.
Medium to good color lugs, $7.50 to $8.50.
Common to medium leaf $7.50 to $9.
Medium to good leaf, $9 to $11.
Good to fine leaf, $11 to $15.
Select wrappery styles, $15 to $25.

NEW FARMERS' BANK.

The Legal Fight Over the Receivership of a Stagnant One.

A Conflict of Authority Between Judges Apperson and Cooper.

J. G. Trimble Appointed Temporary Receiver.

The fight in the courts over the appointment of an Assignee or Receiver for the New Farmers Bank has occupied the attention of the community for several days. On July 27, the directors of this bank made a deed of assignment to R. B. Young, and a few days later presented a bond to County Judge Lewis Apperson, who decided the bond insufficient. August 31, Mr. Young again offered a bond with a Trust Company as one of the sureties. This bond was also rejected for the reason that the Trust Company was not located within the State.

About this time Messrs. John Evans, J. G. Moberly, Thomas J. Evans, Harvey Logan and W. H. Prewitt, filed a suit before Circuit Judge John E. Cooper, for the appointment of a Temporary Receiver.

A committee had soon after the assignment been appointed to look into and report on the assets of the bank. A meeting of the stockholders was held August 3, and this committee reported over $325,000 of gilt edge paper, and after classing a comparatively small amount as bad, and a similar amount as doubtful, they reported $229,000 as paper, either made or endorsed by Wm. Mitchell and R. A. Mitchell, which they did not pass on at all papers. By this time there had developed two distinct factions, popularly known as the Mitchell and the Evans factions. The Mitchell faction claimed that they had collateral sufficient to offer to make their paper good. The committee said they had no time to collect the collateral.

At this meeting of the stockholders after hearing the report of the committee it was decided to appoint Thos. J. Evans and W. H. Prewitt as Trustees to collect a sufficient amount of the notes owing the bank to pay off the depositors and for this they were to receive 25 per cent. Messrs. Evans and Prewitt gave notice that they would apply before Judge Apperson to give bond. The attorneys for Mr. R. B. Young objected, and a contest resulted. Judge Apperson allowed Messrs. Evans and Prewitt to qualify. In the meantime Judge Apperson had been served with a restraining order by Circuit Judge Cooper, which order Judge Apperson disobeyed. Mr. Young by this time had secured a bond for over a million dollars. Mr. Young's attorneys took the case before Judge John E. Cooper for a Temporary Receiver, and the attorneys for Evans and Prewitt attempted to get Judge Apperson off the bench, making the ground of the affidavit that he was indebted to the bank. Judge Cooper refused to vacate, saying that if he was indebted to the bank he would have the amount to pay (which by the way is not yet due) if he was able, and he was glad to say that he was a trustee of the bank. Mr. Young, Messrs. Evans and Prewitt on a third party was the Receiver of the bank. And fortunately for the bank, if he himself should become insolvent, his surety was good.

The case was bitterly contested, and yesterday afternoon Judge Cooper decided to appoint Mr. J. Green Trimble as Temporary Receiver and gave him till to-day to make the bond. This is a most excellent appointment, and a generally satisfactory one to the community at large, as Mr. Trimble is recognized as one of our best and most careful business men. The attorneys for Messrs. Evans and Prewitt gave notice that they would give bond and take an appeal.

BITTY AND HIS MAGNETINE.

Col. W. C. P. Breckenridge, the well known Kentucky Congressman, has been sued in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia by Miss Madeline Virginia Pollard, a wealthy Kentucky girl, for $50,000. Miss Pollard alleges breach of promise and seduction. The suit has produced a wide-spread sensation for the reason that it is the first case of Col. Breckenridge. It will be remembered that it was currently reported only a short time before Col. Breckenridge died that he was about to marry Miss Pollard. This was intended by his friends, and his union to Mrs. Louise Wing, of Louisville, followed almost immediately.

A meeting of railroad general managers has been called to take place at Chicago on August 17. Co-operation in the interest of economy and improvement of business are aimed at.

President's Message.

It was a statesman-like, a manly and patriotic production. A careful study will convince any sane man that it is a masterpiece of statesmanship in principle and is in perfect harmony with the Democratic platform.

"We denounce the Republican Legislation known as the Sherman act of 1890 as a cowardly makeshift, fraught with possibilities of danger in the future which should make all of its supporters, as well as its author, anxious for its speedy repeal.

"We hold to the use of both gold and silver as the standard money of the country, and to the coinage of both gold and silver without discriminating against either metal or charge for mintage, but the dollar unit for the coinage of both metals must be of equal intrinsic and exchangeable value, or be adjusted through international agreement or by such safeguards of Legislation as shall insure the maintenance of the parity of the two metals and the equal power of every dollar at all times in the markets and in the payment of debts.

"We demand that all the paper currency shall be kept at par with and redeemable in such coin. We insist upon this policy as especially necessary for the protection of the farmers and the small business man, and as the most defenseless victims of unstable money and a fluctuating currency.

"We recommend that the prohibitory 10 per cent tax on State bank issues be repealed."

The President has fully and bravely met his duties, and it is now with the Congress of the United States that we are swayed with interest, and it is the personal duty of every representative to see that confidence is quickly restored and that financial relief is brought about.

THE ADVOCATE.

GRANDMOTHER SAID.

"Always set your chair back, when you are going away;
Don't leave it in the middle of the room, or standing carelessly."
This was what grandmother said, as often when a boy,
I jumped up and ran out of doors, a reckless hobble-de-hoy.
"Always set your chair back, when you are going away;
Don't leave it in the middle of the room, or standing carelessly."
These words repeated long ago, come ever fresh to mind,
When little duties are overlooked, or left to be left.
In the daily walks of busy life, when we think we haven't time
To be orderly and almost look upon politeness as a crime.
We are quite too apt, from carelessness, to think, if it not to say
That it matters not if we forget to set our chairs away.
But it will be found that daily life will be more worth the living,
If we heed in harmony the precepts of receiving and of giving;
If we heed the tender chidings dealt out in childhood's days,
And always "set our chairs back when we are going away."

The World's Fair and American Railways.

The Queen & Crescent Route widely known as the road running the "Finest Trains in the South," is in the field to carry everybody from the South to the World's Fair at Chicago. No part of the Southern country is left uncared for by this great railway and its connections. The Through Car System is an admirable exposition of the wonderful capabilities of American railroading. From New Orleans Through Sleeping Cars run daily, morning and evening, carrying, its passengers via Cincinnati to Louisville, as they may select.

From Shreveport, Vicksburg and Jackson, another Through Sleeping Car Line comes to join and become a part of the magnificent Vestibuled Through Train, which passing through Birmingham and the famous Willis Valley of Alabama, is joined at Chattanooga by the train from Jacksonville, Fla., Brunswick, and Atlanta, Ga., over the E. T. V. & Ga. railroad, and proceeds north over the beautiful Cincinnati Southern, through the grandest natural scenery and most attractive historical country in the world, to Oskdale, where another magnificent Pullman car is received, coming from the Richmond & Danville System from Charleston, S. C., through Columbia, S. C., the beautiful French Broad country, and Asheville, N. C. and Knoxville, Tenn.

The time to Chicago is made so as afford the most convenient hours for departures from the principal cities and arrivals in Chicago.
Passengers can purchase tickets good over one line north of the river, and returning via another if they desire a variable route without extra charge. Or they can go via Cincinnati, returning via Louisville, or vice versa.
Round trip tickets on sale at reduced rates. Agents of the Chicago line will on request assist in looking up rooms or accommodation for visitors to the Fair.

Everything that an almost perfect system can devise to deserve the praise and patronage of the traveling public has been provided. Veranda as a Laborator.
I had a curious idea of having expert, a few years ago that I would like to put on record. The machine that gave me the trouble was for experimental purposes, for what purpose I do not know. The trouble lay in the lubrication of a shaft that had to make 4,000 revolutions per minute. It was about 4 inches in diameter, with journals from 8 to 9 inches long and carried a weight of 5,500 pounds.
The thing simply wouldn't run cool. We cut oil grooves in the boxes; we scraped them; we used every kind of material we could think of; we hitched on a pump and pumped gallons of oil through those bearings, and yet in from five to ten minutes they would commence to heat, and nothing would be able to stop it but the stoppage of the machine.
One day in a fit of despair we put ourselves in the tank instead of oil and started to pump that. Presently the bearing had found the food for which it was craving and proceeded to do its work with the cheerfulness of an old campaigner. It seemed that it was not so much the quantity of lubricant that was needed as a regular and continuous supply.
The oils that we are able to use had a consistency that unfitted them for reaching the remote parts of the rapidly revolving bearings, so it heated, while the soapy water was thick enough to be forced over the entire surfaces and keep everything all right. I presume there are oils that would have done the same thing, only we did not happen to get hold of them. But if you ever attempt to use water, remember that you will need it all the time and in large quantities.

Two Clever Horses.
From the window opposite I have just witnessed an interesting performance on the part of two horses. Bordering the park is a strip of land doomed to be built upon, but, mean while lying waste and used for common pasturage on which the horses under notice were leisurely grazing. A pony in a cart having been unjustly left by the owner for a time depended on the ground suddenly started off galloping over the uneven ground at the risk of overturning the cart. The two horses upon seeing this immediately joined in the pursuit with evident skill. My first supposition that they were merely joining in the escape in a frolicsome spirit was at once disproved by the methodical and businesslike manner of their procedure.
They soon reached the runway, by this time on the road, one on one side of the cart and one on the other, then regulating their pace they cleverly contrived to intercept his progress by gradually coming to gether in advance of him, thus stopping him immediately in the track. Then they turned and the men came up to the pony's head they remained standing thus together quite still. Then the two horses, evidently satisfied that all was now right, without a fuss turned round again to their graces.—William White in Nature.

A Pecked Man from the Interior.
A good story is going the rounds against the members of the legal profession. In a certain community a lawyer died who was a most popular and worthy man, and his virtues were inscribed upon his tombstone was this, "A lawyer and an honest man."

Some years afterward a convention was held in the town, and one of the delegates, being of a sentimental turn, visited the "silent tomb," and in rambling among the tombstones was struck with the inscription, "A lawyer and an honest man." He was lost in thought, and when run upon by a fellow hayseed who, seeing his abstraction, asked if he had found the grave of a dear friend or relative, said:

"No, but I am wondering why they came to bury these two fellows in the same grave."—Exchange.

Quite a Shrewd Woman.
You can depend on a woman to do the wrong thing when there is a right way and a wrong way in which to do it. A well known gentleman who has of late been harassed by the visits of reporters at all hours of the night said yesterday: "A few nights ago at 2:30 a. m. my doorbell rang vociferously and I said to myself, 'There are some of those reporters again,' and then I told my wife to answer down and tell them that I was not at home. Instead she ascertained who the visitors were and then called up to me loudly, 'Yes, they are reporters sure enough.' Well, you see that gave me away, and I had to come down, and after a pause he asked, 'But our interview was short.'—Louisville Commercial.

Few Criminals Among Old Army Men.
Careful investigations made by Grand Army men in Philadelphia have revealed the gratifying fact that of 1,864 prisoners brought to trial in one of the police courts of that city during the first six months of the year, but eight were men who served in the army during the Civil War, and of these four were acquitted. Petty larceny was the offense charged against most of the rest.—New York Times.

DIGGING POSTHOLES BY LIGHTNING.
A Man From Colorado Gives an Indianapolis Hired Man Some Points.
The man with the gingerbread beard was watching his neighbor laboriously digging postholes.
"They didn't dig 'em that way out in Colorado where I lived," said he.
The neighbor, who was a hired man, dropped his patent "digger," looked around to see if his employer was visible, found he was not, and took a seat on the ground, ready to listen. "How did you work 'em?" he asked.
"By steam!"
"Steam?" said the man with the gingerbread beard. "Now, done it by lightning."
"Yes, you see, in the part of the state I was in there is no metals of any kind in the ground and no trees. I've often watched the lightning carter around in the heavens for a hour at a time, just aching for something to strike at, but not being able to do so, 'cause they wasn't nothin' it could start at. No obstruction, you see. Well, one day I was a-sweat in away, just like you would be if the boss was around now, when a old fellow that lived there before I come out here, he was a hired man, he come to the house for a bag of tempey nalls, and he plants a nail in every posthole digger he ever see. They is a storm comin', says he, and if I ain't mistaken, he is a-goin to do the job in one whiff. I didn't say nothin, for, honest, I thought he was crazy, an' I loved f'd better humor him."
"After he got the nalls all planted he dragged me away to a safe distance an' told me to watch her work. Pretty soon the storm come along with more thunder an' lightning in it than you will see here in a month of Sundays. Directly it got over them nalls. Then—bliff—blam! It went to plugging away at them there nalls stuck in the ground, the most de-lightful lightning you ever see to get somethin to shoot at. And every time she hit there was the neatest posthole digger you ever see. I did not try to trim a few of 'em up with a spade, but as a general thing they was as neat as a body would want to look at. I guess they might use 'em if you know how to handle 'em."
The hired man said "Goah" and resumed work in the automatic manner of one in a dream.—Indianapolis Journal.

Wedding Ceremony Preventions.
There are caution precautions incumbent upon the would be bride and groom and their friends by the close observation of which they may hope to give the final slip to the ill-fated wedding. The first rule is to try to avoid the wedding. They must not open an umbrella in the house, even though they have seen the mischievous bridesmaids pour quantities of water into the air. On the contrary, they owe it to their hopes of future happiness to provide all the rice and old shoes they can get. A horseman must be hidden in the house beneath which the ceremony is performed, and a wishbone must keep it company. Of course the bride must wear something red and something new, something better and something blue. If one of the couple can manage on the way to the ceremony to catch a pair of spades, a towel, a wheel, or she may congratulate herself or herself. On the other hand, it would be well to send an accommodating friend abroad to put out of the way the unlucky things that are to be had, a dog, a cat, a lizard or a serpent. If a raven croaks above the bride party, it will save trouble to give the whole thing up. If either party trips on the way to the church, the steps must be retraced, and finally, when the portal is reached, both bride and groom must put the right foot first on the step of the church.—New York Sun.

A Bold Plan For His Olive.
There have been standing on the steps of the Covington postoffice when an old colored man came up and touching his hat to the lady who was sitting there, said:

"Kin you tell me is dis de place here dey sell postage stamps?"
"Yes, sir; this is the place," replied the lawyer, seeing a chance for a quiet quiet fun, "but what do you want with postage stamps, uncle?"
"Well, then, you needn't bother about stamps. You don't have to put any on this week."
"I don't!"
"Why for not?"
"Well, you see, the congregation of the hypothesis has differentiated the parallelism so much that the consistency doesn't cumulate the ordinary efforescence, and so the government has decided to send letters free."
The old man took off his hat dutifully, shook his head and then with a long breath remarked:

"Well, boss, all dat may be true, an I don't say it ain't. But just 'sposed dat de eckentricity of de aggre-gation of traisitambulations de de-nominations de de pependickler and sublimites de puplicity of de consequences, don't you qualificate dat de government would constitute dat dere letter? I guess I'd just better put some stamps on anyhow fer luck."
And he passed solemnly on.—Cincinnati Commercial.

Outing for August opens with a clever sketch, "Under False Pretenses," from the pen of Louis Mitchell. Differing broadly from the average love story, this possesses a strength and power to interest the general reader, too seldom found in holiday literature. Other notable features of an excellent number are "Our Sailor Soldier," a history of the Naval Militia movement in the United States, by Everett Mery; "A Family Camp in the Rockies," by Francis Conner; "The Madam's Chicken Soup," by Ed. M. Sady; "Past Suburban," by Francis Trevelyan; "The Races for the American Cup," by Capt. John Kueley. Many other good things about cycling, fishing and travel complete a most interesting and fluently illustrated number.

President Cleveland's political enemies would say or do anything mean they could to reflect discredit on him. His message having been written and submitted to Congress, it is with them to act on the suggestions contained therein, but those enemies would insinuate, misrepresent and pervert facts to do harm to the great Statesman. They even complain because he has returned to his wife and child at Buzzard's Bay.

The demand for more bonds is heard again, but comes from the moneyed kings of Wall street. Secretary Carlisle reflects the sentiment of the people. It is not necessary to sell bonds to get gold. The world is willing to pay gold, and is paying it for American securities and American products. The people expect Congress to remove every all obstacles to internal exchange, and if the suggestions of the President are heeded, peace, happiness and prosperity will mantle the entire country.

Mrs. Laura Hays, sister of the late George Johnson, and aunt of Col. Ben Johnson, died at Bardonia Saturday.

LACK OF CONFIDENCE.

"Lack of confidence," says the city banker to-day, trembling in his shoes lest his bank should be called upon by some hard depositor for an amount that would force him to close his doors, "is the main cause of this trouble." And yet that same banker will add to all this wide-spread distrust by an exceedingly short-sighted policy of closely looking out for No. 1. For example: We were told a day or two since by a large dealer not far from here, that a correspondent in Louisville had written him, asking that he send either currency or Louisville exchange to pay his accounts, as the Louisville banks declined to receive either checks on county banks or Eastern exchange, except for collection. These bankers are thus spreading and intensifying a feeling of distrust. If bankers and bank officials show no confidence in each other, how can they expect the people to feel confidence in them and their institutions? We call attention to the fact that more banks have failed in the large cities than in the smaller places; that as a general thing the banks in the smaller towns are receiving and are in shape to deserve the confidence of the people to an extent that the banks of the large cities have not deserved nor received at the hands of the depositors. Bankers of Louisville, let the management of the country banks throughout the State of Kentucky exhibit in you that same distrust which some of you are exhibiting in them, and you will need no trumpet to proclaim from the house top the crumbling about your foundations. The crash of your falling institutions will be amply sufficient to proclaim the result of your own folly.

Mr. John W. Cockrell announces himself in our current issue as a candidate for assessor. John Cockrell has spent his entire life in our midst and has as a consequence as wide an acquaintance as any young man in the country. He has always been a Sterling party man, and his work in the Democratic ranks will without doubt find his work appreciated when the polls open. Mr. Cockrell came of a family of business men, and will give to the county a clean and conscientious administration of the office. If it is placed in his hands. John asks this small office at the party's hands, pledging to them his utmost endeavor to make them an Assessor of which they may be proud.

The Democrats of the county will be called upon in a very short time to select candidates for Superintendents of Schools and members of the General Assembly. The Democratic papers will be called upon to heartily support the nominees of their party. Give us the very best material offering so that we may be able to enthusiastically endorse the nominees of the party. Democrats may not flatter themselves with the hope that the Republicans of the county do not propose to put out a candidate. They will be quick to take advantage of any candidate who is not clean enough to secure the hearty support of the better element of the Democracy. Give us the very best candidates. We are entitled to them.

The Democracy of Clark County did itself an honor when it named Judge J. M. Beckner as its candidate for member of the next General Assembly. Let the Democracy of every Legislative District in Kentucky follow Clark's example and name a man of Judge Beckner's rank and worth, and our next General Assembly will be one of one of which the State may be justly proud. To the Democracy of our district we have only this to say: the matter is in your hands, select the best and cleanest man and the one that in your judgment will most cordially represent us. Bear in mind the fact "the matter is in the hands of the people, and if they do not their duty none is to blame but themselves."

There is a section of our country about ten miles square which includes McAfee, Shakertown and Harrodsburg, and the country between these two towns where there has been no rain for over nine weeks, and as consequence, the corn crop will be almost a failure, the grass is all burned up and in some places stock has to be fed. It is distressing—Harrodsburg Savings.

The First National Bank of Nashville, of which Mr. Heman Jewell, formerly of Louisville, is the President, suspended Wednesday night. The bank is said to be perfectly solvent, but could not realize at present on its assets. The City Saving Bank also of Nashville, suspended for sixty days.

THE OHIO DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

The Ohio Democratic State Convention met in session on Thursday at Columbus. The session was short and thoroughly harmonious and a strong ticket was placed in the field. The platform approves the Democratic National platform and expresses a confidence in the Democratic County to devise laws that shall aid in extricating the country from its present financial embarrassment. It charges the financial stringency to the unwise legislation of the Republican party—chiefly to the operations of the McKinley bill and the Sherman law. A more liberal banking policy is recommended. A cleansing of the pension roll is demanded, so that a pension may be a badge of honor, instead of the mark simply of a partisan bid in an honest man's vote. McKinley and Harrison's administrations are condemned in no very measured terms. Confidence is expressed in President Cleveland to do all that lies in the Executive's power to better the condition of the country.

THE TICKET.

For Governor,
L. T. NEAL, of Chillicothe.
For Lieutenant Governor,
W. A. TAYLOR, of Columbus.
For Supreme Judge,
JOHN W. SATER, of Darke county.
For Attorney General,
JOHN P. BAILEY, of Putnam county.
For State Treasurer,
B. C. BLACKBURN, of Coshocton.
For Board of Public Works,
LOUIS B. WILKINSON, of Summit.
For State Food Commissioner,
PATRICK MCKOWN, of Cincinnati.

MT. STERLING, KY., AUG. 14, '93.
TO THE DEMOCRATS OF MONTGOMERY COUNTY:

A stern sense of obligation to those whose business interest I have in charge, will not permit me at this critical period to neglect the constant and close attention to my duties which is demanded by the situation. I beg you to understand that if I do not make an active canvass, it is certainly not because of any indifference to the result, but due to the peculiarly unfortunate and unexpected local and general condition of financial matters.

I have an abiding faith in the loyalty of those good friends who have expressed a wish that I shall represent you in the next General Assembly, and I have an assured confidence in the desire of the whole body of electors to choose the man they consider best calculated to promote their interests.

I urge upon each one of you the importance of attending the polls and casting his ballot. When your decision is honestly recorded I will not question its wisdom.

Very truly yours,

H. R. FRENCH.

We can only call upon the Democracy to give us the very best candidates offering for positions. The Democratic papers are forced for very decency's sake to take no part in the contest between candidates within the party. No matter what our private learning may be, or how ardently we may desire to see the candidate of our choice made the nominee, it takes very extraordinary circumstances to excuse us for taking sides in the contest within the ranks. So far as the ADVOCATE is concerned those extraordinary circumstances have not arisen and we sincerely hope that they may not arise.

It will be noticed in another column that the Democratic Chairman of the counties composing this Legislative district have ordered a primary convention, for Saturday, September 23. Now let the very best man be selected that offers, let him come from Menefee or Montgomery. We want the best and truest man we can get. It is exceedingly unfortunate for the State that such a large number of incompetent, and it is charged, dishonest men, have for many sessions back, crept into the General Assembly, as to give you a very black eye. These men must frame our laws for us. Then let us only entrust this position to clean and clear-headed men.

The enemies of Mr. Cleveland attack him to-day through the Washington Post, but the aim of the article is so plain as to deprive it of any significance. Mr. Cleveland has done his full duty. The responsibility for the repeal of laws which are forcing the country into a financial crisis, rests exclusively with Congress, and that fact cannot be clouded with false issues—Louisville Post.

After Sept. 1st Carlisle will be a "dry" town. The saloon licenses expire August 31st and the council has instructed the clerk not to issue any renewal of the same.

Primary Election.

We, S. S. Priest, Chairman of the Democratic County Committee of Montgomery County, and J. J. Byrne, Chairman of the Democratic County Committee of Menefee County, have agreed that a Primary Election shall be held in said counties on the 23rd day of Sept. 1893, Saturday, to select candidate for the District as Representative in the next General Assembly. The candidates are required to pay the expenses of holding said Primary Election according to law, in said precincts in said District by the proper officers.

Each candidate is required to pay to S. S. Priest, Chairman of Montgomery County, the sum of fifty dollars on or before September 3, 1893, and any candidate in default of such payment shall not have his name printed on the ballots. If only one candidate makes such payment the election shall not be held, and that candidate shall be declared the nominee.

This August 11, 1893,
J. J. BYRNE,
Chair. Dem. Co., Menefee Co.
S. S. Priest,
Chair. Dem. Co., Montgomery Co.

Our county is not in as good financially as we would have it. Whether this state of affairs was brought on by speculation or other things, we will not say. But one thing is certain, we all, at this time, need the support and aid of each other who think they are independent, and are able to live for themselves alone. But God pity any country that has many such individuals. The suspension of two of our banks was unnecessary, and was caused solely by ourselves, for with the good will of the people of our county, and a little counsel with a few words of confidence would have prevented what has damaged every citizen of our community. This may lead to further trouble; we talk of this one or that one that owes the suspended banks a debt and say he will be forced to the wall. We are doing the very thing that caused trouble in the first place, and will cause further lack of confidence in our community, not only among ourselves, but the outside world.

Let us all stop such work and instead of injuring good men by such talk, give a helping hand and a cheering word to the poor fellow that is trying to help himself. By doing this we not only help the poor man, but help ourselves. If every business man in this county will see that it is his duty to try and restore confidence, and that we, by close attention and strict economy can, overcome the troubles that have overtaken us. We will soon see brighter faces and prosperity peeping around the corner. Let every creditor think twice before he catches his debtor by the throat, and say "What thou owest." It may be that by such proceedings you crush some deserving man, who, if you had shown some leniency, would have soon been able to stand alone and be a benefit, not only to you in your business, but a great help to his neighborhood. Let us consider these matters carefully, and with less talk and more kindness in our hearts for our fellow-men, we will soon be again a prosperous and happy people.

Hon. T. Y. Patrick, of Prestonsburg, passed through the city Saturday en route to Frankfort. He had time to give a reporter of the ADVOCATE a dollar and say to him: "Send me the paper that took such an active part in the election of Judge James H. Hazlerigg Judge of the Court of Appeals." Mr. T. Y. Patrick thought this interest. When it comes to identify with the interests of the mountains, is not a mountain man in the sense that some men construe it. He is a Kentuckian with Kentucky's interests at heart; a sterling Democrat whom the people would delight to honor.

Democrats must stand firm and see to the promulgation of their principles, or by neglect yield to the enemy, and go down in one heap of debris. The time is at hand when only Democratic doctrine should be disseminated. Our common enemy stands by its party organs and use its influence to its interest. When it comes to voting they are so fully of one faith. Democrats are right, their principles are favorable to the people. Their interests are in common and they should be a helping hand extended in all their efforts for party advancement.

Mr. Carlisle made some implacable enemies when he refused to issue bonds for the relief of Wall street. They are again on the warpath demanding the repeal of the Waughan law, "more bonds." Time and public opinion have vindicated Mr. Carlisle's decision not to issue bonds. It is not bonds but the people want—Louisville Post.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY PRIMARY CALLED.

At a meeting of the Democratic Committee for Montgomery county, on Monday August 14, it was ordered that a Primary election be held according to law, for the purpose of electing a Democratic candidate for Superintendent of schools of Montgomery county. It was further ordered that the said election be held, on Saturday, September 23, 1893, at the same time and in conjunction with the election for Representative from this Legislative district. Candidates are required to bear the expense of said election, and each candidate is ordered to pay to S. S. Priest, on or before September 2, 1893, the sum of $50, for the purpose of defraying said expenses. Any candidate who fails to make such deposit within the time named, shall not have his name printed on the ballots, and if only one candidate shall have so paid by September 2, 1893, no election shall be held and that candidate shall be declared the nominee of the party. It was also ordered that all persons 21 years of age, and known to the judges of the several precincts to be legal voters in the Democratic county, shall be allowed to vote in said Primary. The committee adjourned to meet September 9, 1893, for the purpose of selecting officers of election as above called.

S. S. PRIEST, Secretary.
H. R. FRENCH, Chairman.
Democratic Committee, Montgomery County.

They are, After Him, After Him.

Congressman Life is pressing the President to call the officials to make a change in the Mount Sterling postoffice. He filed charges against the incumbent some weeks ago, but the President has not done more than file with them. George C. Everett has been recommended, and he will be appointed when the department just four days later that the meeting of Congress has not brought the relief anticipated. Oh, ye idiot!

The Congress of the United States was called together August 7. Its sole object was to bring relief to an oppressed people, a state of affairs brought about by that party who for a favored few had disregarded the many. The display of a vast amount of gold is made manifest when a Republican, so-called, journalist has to wait just four days later that the meeting of Congress has not brought the relief anticipated. Oh, ye idiot!

Saturday, Sept. 2d, the day appointed by this Senatorial district to hold precinct conventions in order to select delegates to a district convention, to be held at Paris, Ky., on Sept. 11, in order to nominate a Democratic candidate for State Senator.

For Legislator.

A primary election will be held in this Legislative district, embracing the counties of Menefee and Montgomery, on Saturday, September 23, in order to select a Democratic nominee for the Legislature.

Panlo Prices 1873 and 1893.

The Lexington Gazette has been comparing prices during the panlo of 1873 and 1893, and gives the following comparative prices:

	1873.	1893.
Wheat	1.25 to 1.50	1.75 to 2.00
State corn	80.00 to 90.00	80.00 to 90.00
Wheat	1.25 to 1.50	1.75 to 2.00
Barley	1.00 to 1.25	1.25 to 1.50
Hay	4.00 to 5.00	4.25 to 5.00

We looked over a file of the Gazette for 1873, just twenty years ago, during the panic and depression of that year. We find the following sales of stock and produce:

WHEAT.
J. B. Roddick bought of B. F. & H. T. Johnson a crop of Tappahannock wheat at $1.30.

Wheat sold at James Bean's sale in Clark county at $1.25 per bushel; hogs, $5.50; steers, 4.75.

Mr. Wellington Payne, who was a dealer in produce and agricultural implements, was in the habit of giving quotations to the Gazette in those days, and he quoted wheat at $1.25 to $1.30 per bushel; oats at 40 to 45¢; barley, $1 to $1.25 per bushel.

David S. Harris reports the following sales on County Court day: One lot of 12 head yearling cattle, medium grade, $26.10 per head; one lot 2-year-old males, small common calf, at $95.65; one lot 2-year-old feeding cattle at $4.15 per hundred; one pair of males at $365; one male calf, $60.50; horses at from $40 to $125.

MULES.
Thirty-two head of mules fed by Col. W. R. Estill, were sold to George Hall at $200 per head.

The New Hampshire experiment station has been analyzing some of the cattle foods and condition powders extensively sold, and finds that farmers could readily prepare most of them at a cost of one-sixth of the market price. An exchange suggests that these should be sold under guaranteed analysis, as well as fertilizers.

City Judge.

We are authorized to announce Ben R. Turner as a candidate for Judge of Police Court, of Mt. Sterling, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Next Monday will be County Court day.

Next Monday will be County Court day. Come in and renew your subscription to the ADVOCATE.

Mr. James C. Brown has broken ground preparatory to the erection of a two story brick residence on his lot, on West High street.

Lee Clark, who ten days ago killed Ben Sanders, at a picnic near Muncieville, and who has been evading the officers, has surrendered to the officials.

Two banks suspended at Lebanon, Tenn., Saturday, and one at Brooklyn. All the suspensions are regarded as merely temporary.

The convention of the American Bauers Association, which was to have taken place at Chicago September 6 and 7, has been indefinitely postponed.

Gov. Osborne will not appoint a Senator for Wyoming until the Senate decides the question of admitting Senators appointed after the Legislature failed to elect.

The Election Board at Bowling Green has decided that the recent local option election was illegal and void. The victory at the polls was on the side of local option.

Chief of Police, Galtkirk, of this city, received yesterday, the following dispatch from Carlisle: Look out for Sam Smith, who killed a man last night. Aged 35 years; five feet ten inches high; weight 160 pounds; box mustache on face; heavy mustache.

Be sure and put a box of Ayer's Pills in your satchel before traveling, either by land or sea. You will find them convenient, efficacious and safe. The best remedy for constiveness, indigestion and sick headache and adapted to any climate.

Last week a good Democrat of Clark county walked ten miles to pay his subscription to the Advocate, and was his only business in Mt. Sterling. Such a Democrat is worth something to his party and people. Would that we had more like him. An honorable man, a prompt man, a good man can not be appreciated too highly.

Judge B. G. Williams of Frankfort shows his appreciation of Judge John E. Cooper by presenting him with a handsome gold scarf pin and pair of cuff links each set with a solitaire diamond. The Judge is brim full of gratitude and is extravagant in his kind expressions.

The Chinese pay their doctor only so long as he keeps them in health. They believe in preventing rather than curing disease. This is sound sense, and one of the strongest recommendations of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, a medicine that not only prevents diseases, but cures them.

Frank Pickrell has accepted the position of general manager of the Winchester Ice Company, Pendleton and Cook owners. Mr. Pickrell is at home in this kind of business. He knows it thoroughly. The firm has made no mistake in securing his services. Mr. Pickrell and wife will move to Winchester this week and make that city their future home. We take pleasure in commending them our neighbor city.

A Laboring Man.

"Times are hard. Were it not for my cow, garden, chickens and the grasshoppers they feed on, I don't know what my family would do." This is the way some people talk, and it does not relieve the situation in the least. There is money in the country sufficient to keep going, and the one thing to do is to work, and though the earnings be small this is the only way to keep the dollars in circulation. Whenever a dollar is in hand keep it moving.

RELIGIOUS.

Rev. S. C. Humphrey, of Lancaster, will preach at the Baptist church here Sunday morning, the 27th, and at Howard's Mill in the afternoon.

The several pastors of the city filled their pulpits Sunday morning. At night, union services were held with the Southern Presbyterian church, Rev. E. E. Bomar preaching a fine sermon to a congregation that taxed the audience room to its utmost capacity. The union services will be held with Baptist church, next Sunday, Rev. A. J. Arrick, pastor of the First Presbyterian church filling the pulpit. A gentleman who sat by at the service Sunday night, and who is not himself a member of any church said to us as he looked at the unspeakable evidence of thoroughness and cordial devotion of the several pastors as they were grouped around the pulpit: "There is a sermon in itself, a mightier one than we could hear from the strongest preacher in the land." The good pastors, of Mt. Sterling, are doing what they can to break down division and discord among God's people.

Elder A. M. Fisher began a series of revival meetings with the Antioch Christian church, on Sunday evening. Services every evening this week and next Sunday morning and night. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend. Subjects as announced, are as follows:

Tuesday night, August 15; "The Wages of Sin."

Wednesday night, August 16; "Paradise Lost and Regained."—Chart.

Thursday night, August 17; "A Blessed Truth."

Friday night, August 18; "Life Out of Death."

Saturday night, August 19; "Heaven and Hell—Where are They?"

Sunday morning, August 20; "The Necessity of a Hell."

Sunday night, August 20; "Who Will Be In Heaven?"

The woman who works and is tired will find a special help in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Perfectly harmless in any condition of the female system. It promotes all the natural functions, builds up, strengthens, regulates and cures. For women approaching confinement, nursing mothers and every week, run-down, delicate woman it is an invigorating, supporting tonic that's peculiarly adapted to their needs.

But it's more than that, too. It's the only GUARANTEED remedy for all the functional disturbances, painful disorders and chronic weaknesses of womanhood. In "female complaints" of every kind, periodical pains, bearing-down sensations, internal inflammation and kindred ailments if it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

Cholera is in New York Harbor, and yellow fever in Pensacola and other points in the South. It is confidently expected such sanitary measures can be enforced as to stamp out both dread scourges without great loss of life.

Notice to Taxpayers.

I am now ready to receive your taxes for 1892, and as they have been due since the 1st day of May, and I only have until the 1st day of November in which to collect and pay all the taxes to State and county without paying a per cent, therefore, I request you all to come forward and settle at once (all come at once, you will be waited on). I am requested to state that all who owe back taxes to R. C. Robinson they must pay at once or they will be levied on for same, and if he should be forced to levy to make his, I shall levy at same time for this year also. Hoping that you will come in and settle at once, I remain, Yours truly,

The Secretary of Agriculture is in receipt of a communication from the Society of Fruit Culture of Russia announcing an International Exhibition of Fruit Culture, to be held under the auspices of the society at St. Petersburg in the autumn of 1894. Its object is stated to be to show "the present condition in Russia and other countries of the cultivation of fruits and vegetables, of viniculture, the cultivation of medicinal plants, horticulture, and of the manufacture of their products."

A congress of pomologists will be convened simultaneously with the exhibition, and all persons interested in horticulture and pomology, whether in Russia or in other countries, are invited to participate in the exhibition. The classification for the exhibition is as follows:

1. Fresh fruits.
2. Fresh vegetables.
3. Dried fruit and vegetables, preserved or treated by other processes.
4. Wine, cider, berry and other fruit beverages.
5. Hops and medicinal herbs.
6. Seeds.
7. Fruit trees and bushes.
8. Horticultural implements and appliances, and technicality of production.
9. Literary, scientific and educational accessories, collections, plants, etc.

Persons desirous of further information are referred to the office of the International Exhibition of Fruit Culture, 1894, Imperial Agricultural Museum Fontanka 10, St. Petersburg, Russia.

THE DAKOTA POPPALS.

Boiling Nettle Pods Large as Pumpkins That Explode When Stung.

"There's a famous product of the prairies of the Dakotas that should be shown in Chicago for the special benefit of the Germans, and, now that it's so famous, it's a pity that a party of friends at the Palmer. I refer to the popweed. It is of rank growth, but little less than the corn in its way. It has a stalk like the cabbage plant, with a large round top the size of a Hubbard squash and about the same color. There are thousands of acres of it on the Indian reservations. In the vicinity of alkali beds it grows to a prodigious size.

"When the terrific northwest winds blow late in the fall, the popbolls are detached from the stalk and roll for miles over the prairies until they reach uneven country or other obstructions, where they accumulate and pile up like houses of cards. Behind these banks of weeds the wild buffalo found shelter in mid-winter from the fierce blizzards. If the popweed ball comes forcibly in contact with a person's face or neck while rolling, it explodes with a tremendous report, a cloud of fine powder passes on through the air and thousands of sharp, fine needles are thrown out in all directions. These needles are the seed of the popweed, and are what produce the mischief with stock, for they are very penetrating. A 'critter' will run from a rolling popweed like a jack rabbit from a coyote.

"The Indians tell strange and interesting stories about the weed. It is said that the young braves of the tribe, for discipline and to prepare themselves to endure great torture, would fight with these popbolls as schoolboys do with snowballs. 'The battle of the popweed' is held once a year, and is witnessed by the whole tribe with great pomp and parade. To the young braves the occasion is what the Fourth of July is to the white American youth. There are the noise and smoke of battle to perfection and the fine, sharp needles cause intense pain. The greatest exhibitions of bravery are rewarded by promotion in the tribe, and presentations of handsome robes and leggings made by the young braves' best squaws or maidens.

"The needles from the largest popweeds are very long and when baked in hot ashes become very hard and strong and make good arrows. The Zulus would undoubtedly be charmed with this wonderfully warlike weed, and perhaps knowing a good thing when they see it, they would want to take back a ton or so of it for seed. Certain it is, however, that with the passing away of our buffalo and Indians the Dakotas are more and more losing the value of the popbolls."—Chicago Tribune.

How a Police District Got Its Name.

Inspector Williams, superintendent of upper Broadway in a recent interview the other day. It was his day off and he was taking a look at his old bailiwick—the Nineteenth precinct.

"The old Tendorlinian grew greatly," he said, musingly. "It's getting to be a big business center now. Large stores and business buildings are taking the place of many of the old landmarks."

"By the way," the inspector said suddenly, "do you know how this came to be called the Tendorlinian? Not Well, I'll tell you. I gave it that name. It was in 1850, when I was christened. I came up out of the old Oak street station to take command of it. A reporter came one night to find out for his paper how I liked my new job. I said: 'I've been feeding on rump steak a long time down on Oak street,' I replied; 'now I'm going to have a bit of the Tendorlinian.' That bright young reporter printed the remark the next day, and ever since the name Tendorlinian has clung to the district. It is known as the Tendorlinian in police nomenclature as well as in the newspapers."—New York Sun.

Two Headed, Double Action, Revolver Snakes of the California Desert.

Captain W. C. Pidge, the superintendent of the Imperial quarantine near the lake, has two jars of alcohol in which are several objects of unusual interest. There is one of the little rattlesnakes known as the "two headed" snake of the California Desert. It is a method of progression, which is side-wise, one end at a time rather than straight ahead like other reptiles. The side winding is found in great numbers in the hot deserts and during the warmer summer nights keeps moving all night long unless he happens to fetch up in a comfortable place like the folds of a blanket. It is said his bite is certain death, nevertheless he never hears of any deaths from that cause. The captain's specimen was one of seven he found under the same rock near the quarry.

With this is another snake a foot or so in length, which for certain powers and peculiarities can challenge the reptile world. This little snake has a perfect head on either side. Not only that, but during his lifetime he could and did go in either direction without turning, just as readily one way as the other. As a reptile he is as complete as any snake. He is not only a tender ferryboat, or even more, since his reversing gear works quick as a flash, and no matter which way he goes he has a complete lookout astern as well as ahead.

This specimen was found under a rock which had been turned over. He would dart ahead a foot or two at a time, then as suddenly stop. Then, when a cane or stick was put in front of his eyes, he would reverse and dart right back, the other end or head first, precisely as if that were the only head he possessed, and as if he had no eyes at all. He did not depend on all his life. Then, when an obstacle was placed in front of that end, back he would go, the other head first, as if that were the only head he possessed. This is considered a snake of the desert, and some of the snake editors may not believe it, nevertheless it is given as the actual truth.—Bishop (Cal.) Register.

How Trainers Came to Be Popular.

Trousers came into use for general wear with the French revolution. The French revolutionaries, who were royalists and sound constitutional principles, wore breeches. The "sans culottes," who denounced every one who wore breeches, finally went in for trousers. The trousers were worn as much cloth around their legs—in a word, adopted the modern trousers and made them the badge of a party. Napoleon, who was too thin at one time, wore trousers and took great care to look his best in small clothes, nevertheless wore them on state occasions after he had been crowned emperor. His army was the first that wore trousers, and they kept progress step by step with the march of the French legions.

The French trousers were seen in Egypt, in Spain, in Italy, in Germany, in Poland and in Russia, and with them the neat garter. People thought that the manner in which a great conquering nation clad its legs was the correct model, and when the French were marching over the ruins of the old world, they wore breeches and garters and knee breeches at Jena and Austerlitz a decision was given from which the world did not care to appeal.—Washington Star.

Whims of State's Summer Guests.

We have some funny summer guests along the coast. One of the most peculiar is the government taker in its whistling buoys in summer in order that the nightmares of fussy old ladies in hotels and cottages may not whiny and shriek. When these visitors depart, the whistle goes back to business. A little while ago a steamboat company in Casco bay erected a little house upon its wharf. A troublemaker, who was deemed that his view was obstructed by the new building, and one night he tramped down to the wharf and demolished the structure with an ax. There was a brief but spirited interview between the irascible old gentleman and the company's agent, and the next building stand it himself—Exchange.

Impressions of People.

The other evening at dinner we were much interested in talking over the impressions we carry away with us of people newly introduced. My mother said she always noticed the teeth and drew many conclusions from the color, shape, size, transparency, etc. My sister said she invariably judged by the mouth and had scarcely ever been mistaken. A Frenchman staying with us always carried away a distinct portrait of the color, shape and expression of the eye. I declared for the handshape and so far had not had reason to change my opinion. This is the surest test, especially taken in conjunction with the laugh.—Woman.

The Lord Is Always Too Busy.

The lobby of the house of commons is haunted almost every day by a lady who trots after Sir William Harcourt when he is in the house. It is said that when Sir William perceived this persevering lady a "bleached" look came over his face, and he suddenly discovers that he has business in another part of the house. Yet she would be satisfied with £4,000,000 paid on account.—London Tit-Bits.

Proper Time to Eat Fruit.

The proper time for eating fruit is in connection with meals, especially at breakfast and dinner. It should be supplied in generous measure with those two meals, either in its natural state or simply cooked. In either of these ways it will be found easy of digestion, agreeable to the system, a corrective of many deranged conditions, and most highly relished by all appetites of normal condition. There has come into vogue in late years what may be termed almost a fad for the production of strangely compounded things, in the form of sauces and relishes of one name and another, of which fruit forms the foundation, but which are so disguised by the addition of spices and other foreign ingredients that the original fruit is practically lost to sight and taste. Let it be understood, once for all, that these things are no longer fruits, and are not to be considered such, and can in no manner or degree yield the beneficial results to be derived from the use of fruit.—Good Housekeeping.

Clover-Sick Land.

Occasionally we are told that land becomes "clover-sick." This is occasioned by too excessive growth of the plant. Many assume that because clover and other leguminous crops help their land by fixing nitrogen in the soil that they can keep their land fertile by means of legumes and yet still their fertility thus acquired, but the fact must not be ignored that while clover and other legumes furnish nitrogen, they are great exhausters of the mineral elements of fertility, and if not kept supplied with lime, potash and phosphoric acid, they will soon cease, not only to aid other crops but to grow themselves, but with clover and the mineral constituted commercial fertilizers the maintenance of fertility in any average soil is a comparatively easy matter. Clover-sickness is almost always an exhaustion of lime or of other mineral substances which the clover demands for its own support. Upon land which is suffering from too much clover, and is full of anything else, an application of lime usually produces the desired result.—Indiana Farmer.

Canned Quince With Apples.

The proportions are a half-peck of quinces to a half-bushel of fine sweet apples. Prepare the quinces and cook the waste saving only the water. In this water cook first the apples, which have been prepared, cored, and cut into eights, until they are tender. Slice the quinces quite thin, and boil in the same water until they can be pierced with a fork. Drain and weigh the quinces and apples placing them together. For each pound of the fruit allow half a pound of white sugar and place in the juice, bringing the resulting syrup to a boil. At that point add the fruit which should be covered with the juice, if the latter is scant, add sufficient boiling water. Bring the whole to a simmer, and let it continue till the apples are quite soft when the sauce is ready to be canned and sealed.—Good Housekeeping.

It is better to remove limbs that are broken by the winds.

If fruit trees are to be planted in the yards, plant them in the back yard.

There is less shrinkage in canned berries than any other kind of fruit.

A small piece of ground will produce enough fruit for any ordinary family.

A great many horticulturists advise not to prune grapes after the sap has started.

Melon vines can be prevented from bunching, by throwing a hoe full of dirt on the vine, near the end. This weighing of the vine can be repeated as often as it is necessary to hold the vine down.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Castle, Wis., was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced both in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven bottles of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Specker, Catawba, O., had five large sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box of Bucklen's salve cured him entirely. Sold at W. B. Lloyd's drug store.

A good appetite can be brought, like anything else, and good digestion after it, too. Both of them come from the stomach. That starts the blood into healthy action, purifies and enriches the blood, cleanses and repairs the system, restores health and vigor, and adds up flesh and strength. For all diseases that come from indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness, nervousness, skin and scalp diseases—even Consumption (or Lung-weakness) in its earlier stages, the "Discovery" is the only remedy so sure and certain that it can be guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, in seven days, you have your money back.

On these terms, the cheapest blood-purifier sold, no matter how many hundred doses are offered for a dollar for food and with this, you pay only for the good you get. Can you get better results from any other purifier?

Its Origin.

The story runs that early in the century a native North Carolinian who had moved across the border into South Carolina, was forced to fly back again to escape arrest. The Governor of North Carolina straightway issued a requisition on the Governor of North Carolina for the fugitive. The criminal had many and influential friends. Finally the South Carolina, executive, with a large retinue waited on his brother official at Raleigh, the capital of North Carolina. The visitors were received with all due honors. A banquet was given them; wine and brandy was served. When at last the decanters and glasses were removed, the Governor of South Carolina rose to state his errand. A long and acrimonious debate followed. The Governor of South Carolina became angry, rising once more to his feet, he said, "sir, you have refused my just demand and offended the dignity of my office and of my state. Unless you at once surrender the prisoner I will return to my capital, call out the militia, and take the fugitive by force of arms. Governor, what do you say?" All eyes were turned on the Governor of North Carolina. The latter rose slowly to his feet and beckoned to a servant who stood some distance away. His bearing was firm and dignified as he came forward. He was slow but answering, and the Governor of South Carolina, again demanded, "What do you say?" "I say, Governor, that it is a long time between drinks." The reply restored good humor. Decanters and glasses were brought out again and, while the visitors remained if any one attempted to refer to the diplomatic object he was cut short by the remark that it was a long time between drinks. When the visiting Governor returned home he was escorted to the boundary line by the Governor of North Carolina, and they parted the best of friends. The fugitive was never surrendered.—Detroit Free Press.

LAND STOCK AND CROP.

The coming orange crop of Florida will be 4,000,000 boxes.

A patch of rye sown in July or August after a rainfall will make good grazing during the fall.

To a market gardener the difference in earliness will make a big difference in profit.

The best time to plow stubble ground for fall wheat is the earliest possible moment.

The tobacco crop in Western Florida, especially around Chipley, is exceedingly dry.

The Louisiana rice crop was 2,000,000 sacks, equal to 200,000,000 pounds of clean rice; 101,500,000 pounds remained unsold.

California has the finest exhibit on the World's Fair grounds, especially so far as fruits and vegetables are concerned, of any State in the Union.

The spraying of cabbage heads with a strong decoction of cayenne pepper will kill the worm that eats up the cabbage head.

The clippings on the lawn, act as a mulch and protect the grass against drought. The grass should be mowed frequently if left on the ground.

For small fruits, such as strawberries, chemicals may be considered the best manure. Stable manure, on account of the weed seed, should not be applied.

If you have sown clover on wet land this spring and want a good crop, it would be the part of wisdom to drain it before winter.

Florida tobacco sold from thirty-five cents to $2.25 per pound. Four times the usual area has been planted. The coming crop is expected to be 50 per cent. better than any previous crop.

HORSE AND TRACK.

The dam of Nancy Hanks is in foal to Director.

If Martha Wilkes was right at Buffalo, she will not do in her class.

Walter E. 2:10, is the winner of the largest purse won by a trotter this year.

Harrietta, 2:14 looks to be a little the best piece of trotting material that Crit Davis ever had.

Nancy Hanks started at Boston to beat the time of Jay-Eye-See, 2:14. She made the time in 2:08.

Bud Doble has all that Pixley wins this year, and charges nothing for training and driving her.

Hal Polster won the free-for-all pace, Mascot second, Manger third. Time 2:07, 2:09, 2:06, 2:08, and 2:09.

Hulda, 2:08, by Guy Wilkes, seems to be the best mare on the turf this year. Some think she can give Nancy a race.

Walter E. and Hyland T. are best pair of geldings in training. They are owned by the brothers, Bob and John Stewart.

We lately said that Hal Polster was on his last legs. We now want to add the postscript they are mighty good ones.—Trotter.

Budd Doble drove Nancy Hanks a mile in 2:12 at Buffalo last Thursday morning, the last half in 1:02, the last quarter in 30 seconds.

Fantasy, by Chimes, won the free-for-all 3-yr-old race at Buffalo; beating Margrave, William Penn and Silicion. Time 2:15, 2:14 and 2:15.

C. J. Hamlin received $30,000 for his betting privileges at the Buffalo Grand Circuit Meeting. The chances are that Dride & Armstrong will quit losers.

Walter E. won the big free-for-all stake at Buffalo, but it took seven heats to decide. Hyland T. won second money, Martha Wilkes third. Best time 2:10.

Hal Polster came home from the halt in 1:01 in the heat that he out-finished Blue Sign at Buffalo last week. The latter managed to pace from the three quarters with one front shoe off.

Margrave, by Baron Wilkes, the winner of the three-year-old stake at Buffalo, has been a very consistent performer from a yearling up, and his winnings foot up $3,000 as a yearling and $7,420 as a two-year-old. He is engaged in $40,000 worth of stakes for this year, and $65,000 for next.

Pixley is the most unfortunate mare on earth. When she was out a couple of years ago she could never get better than second, and now when she is as good as any thing in training, she manages to meet one just a trifle better. Hazel Wilkes disposed of her at Cleveland, while Hulda was ahead at Buffalo. Hulda trotted in 2:03, Pixley's time was a quarter of a second slower.

A couple of Toledo, Ohio, gentlemen have patented a pneumatic tire that will not puncture and collapse when it comes in contact with glass, tracks or other street rubbish, which wheelmen as a rule have to contend with. There is a wire mesh vulcanized with the canvas and rubber, and it is so arranged that when the wheel passes over a tack the wire bedding flexes with the rubber. The wire lays between layers of fabric, and the puncturing of the wheel has no effect upon allowing the air to escape.

You never can tell what a colt is coming to. The one that sticks its tail up like a drum major's plume and trots a three-minute clip when six or eight months old, sometimes turns out to be a three-minute trotter gets mixed up and goes wrong some way. There are colts of the other kind that would defy connoisseurs to settle the exact difference between one of them and a goat, and that afterward shed their long hair and ungaily garb, lengthen their stride, and astonish the world by a sensational performance.

In spite of the great cry about the horse business, there never was a time since trotting began when there were so many races with large purses, such large fields of horses entered and started, or such crowds of spectators as have been seen this year. Pedigrees no longer sell a horse for his money, speed equal to a quarter in 54 or 55 seconds don't count, but a young horse in which both are combined, together with all the qualities which go to make up a race horse, will bring nearly as much money as at any time in the past.

Hulda's mile in 2:08, in the third heat of the 2:15 stake at Buffalo last Thursday, is in many respects the best race performance ever made by a trotter. Martha Wilkes has a record a quarter of a second better made in the third heat at Evansville, Ind., last fall while trotting against Gillette, 2:11, but the first and second heats of that race were trotted in 2:18, while Hulda's first two heats were 2:12, 2:10. Then Martha Wilkes had but one competitor, while Hulda had five. Hulda is no doubt the greatest mare of the year, and we believe she will be able to give Nancy Hanks a fair contest.

LAND STOCK AND CROP.

The Gravities should be cleaned out before threshing.

Some kill Canada thistles by plowing as deep as possible when they are in bloom.

Sid Gouch, of Daveson County, made 476 bushels of wheat on 114 acres of ground, an average of 41 bushels.

The hay crop prospect in England has improved slightly. American hay is quoted at $20 and $25 per ton.

Of the 380,000 farmers in the State of New York only 7,000 are on the list of those to whom the bulletins of the experiment station are sent.

It pays to have horses for farm work that are naturally good walkers. A fast-walking team will turn off a great deal more work than a slow one.

Corgan & Bohon bought last week from Bonta Brothers 8,000 bushels of wheat at 50 cents a bushel.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

L. T. Hugely sold his entire stock of 92 whiskey (800 barrels) in a New York firm for thirty five cents per gallon. It was a good sale.—Danville Advocate.

The number of hogs packed in the West from March 1 to July 1, was more than a million less than the number packed during the same time last year.

Farmers should be just as regular in eating, sleeping, and beginning and quitting work as any other class. There is nothing gained in the long run by working too hard.

A writer thinks that the man who waits until his colts are four or five years old before beginning their education, should, to be consistent, wait until his children are 21 years old before teaching them their letters.

There is no doubt that it will pay to feed wheat to the pigs and hogs. But it should be soaked to get the best profit. A mixture of wheat and corn is good to finish off the hogs. When hogs are worth five and six cents it won't pay to sell wheat at 50 or 60 cents.

Horse Marks.

The following from the Spirit of the Times about horse marks, will enable many of our readers to call them by their right names:

A white spot in the forehead is a star.

A white face from eye to eye is a bald face.

A white stripe in the face is a blaze.

A stripe between the nostrils is a whig.

A white eye is a glass eye.

A horse has pasterns, not ankles, and there is no such joint as a hind knee or foreshoulder.

White below the pastern joint is a white leg.

White around the top of the hoof is a white coronet.

A star, blaze or bald face cannot be anywhere except on the face. A snip can't be anywhere except on the nose.

A reporter from Frankfort says no dangers were found in the possession of State convicts in the penitentiary.

School Punishments a Generation Ago.

School discipline was maintained a generation ago mainly by coercion. The rural pedagogue plied the switch mercilessly. Furies were in constant use in the schoolroom. There were many barbarous punishments.

One of these savage martinetes in New Jersey devised a collar and halter for lifting big boys off their feet and nearly strangling them. He also strung up small boys by the thumbs until they were blue in the face. One day he put a demure, modest girl to shame for the trivial offense of whispering. He called her to the platform and ordered all the boys to file by and kiss her.

A few lads, giggling as they went forward, blessed the poor girl, who was blinking scarlet from mortification. Then a champion appeared in her defense. A tall, resolute boy, instead of following orders and increasing her mortification, made a dash for the desk and assaulted the teacher. A pitched battle ensued, in which the teacher was defeated. His prestige suffered from this reverse. He had to abandon the field.

The natural effect of brutality was the conversion of country schools into breeding places for bullies. Boys who were flogged for small misdeeds and tortured for mischievous pranks grew up with hard, resentful natures.—Youth's Companion.

Writing One's Signature.

"There is something peculiar about the way people sign their names," remarked Head Clerk Sims of the Census to a reporter. "No two men go it the same—not the writing, but the manner. Some men will come in, pick up a pen, dart off their name and are ready for a room in a minute's time. Others have to see who has been here for a week past, and do not appear to know whether they want to register or not. There is an other manner of man, who, after looking over all the pens, selects one to his fancy and starts to write after many fussy motions. He generally signs his name in full.

"This man naturally writes a small hand," remarked Mr. Sims, pointing to a signature that almost required a microscope to decipher. "But a signature of that kind is all the more conspicuous. We have a traveling man who signs his name in a very peculiar way. All the letters are of the same height, about half an inch, but they are only an eighth of an inch in width. Every time that he leaves we find five or six sheets of paper in his room covered with his signature, where he has been practicing."—Kansas City Times.

A Remarkable Cause For Action.

From a remarkable case heard in the Olean small debt court the other day I gather that a belief in witchcraft is still a powerful prevalent in the highlands. One dairyman named Campbell sued another named Black for damages which he alleged he had sustained in his character and reputation in consequence of the defendant having asserted that "he had an evil eye," and that with this wicked organ he had injured two cows by "upsetting" and "felling" them. I am glad to say that the Scotch law does not recognize this cause of action, and the sheriff dismissed the case. Are there no schools in Olean to root out such dense ignorance?—London Truth.

Some of the employees of the Evansville and Terre Haute Railroad Company are urging the brotherhood to propose to the company a compromise in the matter of the contemplated reduction of wages, it being to the effect that only a part of their wages would be paid during the next two months, allowing the company the use of the remainder as a temporary loan without interest.

MONEY MATTERS.

ARE always a topic that interests. Its a topic that puts all good people to thinking, and generally takes lots of hustle to keep on top with them. Money is hard to get and harder to save, but there are ways and ways to do a thing. One piece of folly is to pay rent forever. There is a better way to live and have a home. Go to Baird & Winn and borrow the money on easy terms and easy payments. Buy the house and let them insure it against fire and tornado, and then have them insure your life, so that grim death's coming won't leave your wife and children penniless. For selling and buying anything in the way of real estate or stock's and bonds, go to BAIRD & WINN.
